ROUND TABLE DISCUSSION
Thursday, November 8, 2018, 6:30 P.M.

Be part of a moderated, round table discussion about topics such as coping with hearing loss during the holidays or traveling with hearing loss. Share your stories and what works for you. Ask questions and listen for information you need. Come tell about the funniest/most frustrating/most enlightening experience you've had with hearing loss, the best memories of chapter events/meetings or other topic, and share your successful strategies. Ask about recent technology you are interested in.

Ed Schickel will be our moderator. Ed is Chemical Dependency Therapist who lost his job because of his hearing loss. In 2001, he joined Self Help for Hard of Hearing People (SHHH). His desire to learn and help those with hearing loss built from there. He has held leadership positions in Hearing Loss Association of America (HLAA) Chapters, enriched his knowledge with courses from HLAA and Gallaudet University and shared that knowledge through presentations in Kentuckiana. Ed is a founding member of HLAA Kentucky Home Chapter and the editor of www.hearinglosskentucky.org.
