Ron loved trees; they were all beautiful to him. It would make him happy if trees were planted across this country in his memory. If you would like to plant a tree in his memory, would you also take a picture of you doing so and send it to hayjean@twc.com. Please add your name, and the name and location of the tree. Then to watch it grow, take a picture each year around Ron's birthday and send it to the same email, if it would be convenient. A folder will be made for these and it would be a great way to keep in touch.

Ron was a husband, a father, a student, an employee, a member, a traveler and a buyer. He wanted to be the best he could at everything he did. He loved meeting and helping people.

He was a student in Harriman, Tennessee; Conway, Arkansas (where he was a 1955 Conway High School graduate and a 1962 graduate of Arkansas State Teacher's College (now University of Central Arkansas); Little Rock, Arkansas (where he completed 12 hours of graduate studies); He earned several continuing education certificates in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

He was an employee with businesses in Conway, Blytheville, Little Rock, Sylvan Hills, North Little Rock, Jacksonville and Pine Bluff, Arkansas; Lawton, Oklahoma; Paducah, Shelbyville and Louisville, Kentucky; Bristol, Virginia; and York, Pennsylvania. He grew from delivering newspapers, being a grocer/butcher at Robbins Grocery, a janitor at Conway Theater, a gas station attendant at Roy Wallers, to Construction worker with his dad, line man at Virco, teacher at Pulaski County Schools, engineer at Hamilton Cosco, Illinois Tool Works, Portec, Vermont American, Stanley Tools, Black & Decker, C. Lee Cook, and Dover Resources.

He was a member of the Order of DeMolay, Jacksonville Jaycees, and Lions Club in Arkansas; and the Hearing Loss Association of America and the chapters of Hearing Loss Association of America in Kentucky. Using Cochlear implants to hear, he traveled the state to bring knowledge and access to others with hearing loss. He was always ready to dance as a member with the White Rose Squares, the Continental Squares and the Round Dancers Club in Pennsylvania. He danced all over that state and in Maryland, Hawaii, and He square danced to entertained passengers on the Royal Caribbean Song of Norway and S.S. Independence cruise ships.

He loved to travel and made the most of his non-rev or business trip opportunities, many times with a personal guide! (With Non-Rev Randy and Guide Ronnie; he felt so 'son' blessed,) His travels took him to AUSTRALIA, Melbourne, (Queen Victoria Market, Melbourne Zoo), Phillip Island, (Koalas and the Fairy Penguin Parade), MEXICO, Cozumel (Mayan Ruins).
